Consortium Bulletin Launch.

Global Marine Systems announces the launch of the new-look product bulletin.

In line with Global Marine's commitment to continuous improvement in customer service, this bulletin aims directly at serving your need for receiving up-to-date and accurate service and product information.

In addition to these bulletins, the UJ/UC web site is to undergo a complete review. Over the coming months, the site will be developed to include electronic versions of this bulletin amongst a host of other information. Navigation will be made easier with full search facilities.

Recommendations and feedback on future bulletins and the web site are welcomed. Whether it concerns the presentation or content of either, please use any of the contacts on the reverse of this card, or, alternatively, why not send us your feedback through the web site.

Web site Quotation Request

Did you know the web site allows you to electronically request a quotation? Whether it be for UJ consumables or equipment, visit the price lists pages, enter the number of items required in the quantity column and click the grey product button to process the item. Repeat as necessary and process your request in the quotation section of the site.
